The Importance of Synodic Cycles: What Phase is it anyway and how do I fit in?

Georgia Stathis will be presenting her ideas on the developing phases and the waning phases of various synodic cycles, with a focus on the ongoing Saturn square Uranus. She will also be looking at 2022's Jupiter/Neptune conjunction in Pisces. The last time these two came together in Pisces was 1856. Over the course of the next three years, three different new cycles begin: Jupiter/Neptune in 2022; Jupiter/Chiron in 2023; Jupiter/Uranus in 2024 and Saturn/Neptune in 2026. Where are they now and what do they mean? Stathis was an undergraduate teacher at Kepler College for 8 years and her presentations both visual and filled with history are designed to light up ideas for the audience.
