In this seminar we will briefly explore the nature of prediction and then get right to the practical stuff by adapting the gold-standard predictive techniques of Indian astrology. The Vimshottari Dasha (or simply "dasha") method of Planetary periods. Almost all Western astrological softwares have this as a calculation feature and I will teach you how you can add it to your toolbox without having to learn Indian astrology. Plenty of example charts will be shown to illustrate the concepts.

With this technique you will be able to view the broad and specific flows of your life, as different planets turn on and off, activating the house topics they rule. You will take home a technique that can be easily integrated into your current progostication methods.

BIO: Kenneth D. Miller, MA, Jyotish Kovid, has been studying astrology all his life and practicing professionally since 2005. Based in San Diego, California, he sees clients and teaches astrology. Former president of Kepler College, he has also served on the boards of ISAR, NCGR (San Diego), Council fo Vedic Astrology and San Diego Astrological Society. He has taught internationally at various conferences including the last three UACs. He is the author of several articles and the forthcoming book Mars: Passion or Strife (2nd revised edition).
